How can I print multiple copies of a document?

With the exception of the final copy of your thesis, please do not print multiple copies of documents on the Pharos printers. In addition to being against the Athena Rules of Use, it places unnecessary wear and tear on the printers, prevents other users from getting their printouts in a timely manner, and increases costs for everyone at MIT.

Please consider transmitting your documents electronically whenever possible or making use of the photocopiers in CopyTech.
