Can password changes be forced every few months?

Q: Can password changes be forced every few months?

Context

A Container Administrator wants to set security policy's for their group of Machines / Users

Answer

No, The Central Domain does not enforce password policies because MIT uses a person's MIT Athena Kerberos principle for primary authentication. These policies override what Windows can set.

See Also

- WIN.MIT.EDU Landing Page