Google Chrome "Your browser failed to generate a key" error

Users should always install certificates for Google Chrome using CertAid whenever possible. Running CertAid also updates your identity preferences and trusted domains.