Computing Equipment Loan Program FAQ

What are the terms and conditions for getting a Student Loaner iPad bundle?

- Limit of one iPad bundle per undergraduate student or graduate TA per academic term.
- The iPad, Apple Pencil, and case must be returned within four weeks from the conclusion of the term. If the iPad will no longer be needed at a date prior to the end of the semester, it can be returned ahead of time. Details about the return process will be shared at a later date, prior to the end of term.
- If a loaner iPad will be needed beyond the academic term, please contact us at 617-253-1101 to make arrangements.
- Failure to return the iPad bundle by the due date or significant damage to the iPad may result in a charge for replacement of the device being assessed to your student bill and a loss of eligibility to participate in the loaner program in the future.
- If the iPad is damaged, lost, or stolen, please contact IS&T via telephone at 617-253-1101 or via email to servicedesk@mit.edu to report the incident and to discuss options.
- IS&T will utilize Apple’s Device Enrollment Program (DEP) to image iPads to contain all necessary software to support the teaching and learning tools needed over the academic year. IS&T will manage all devices in accordance with MIT policies, including MIT Policy 13.2 on the use of information technology resources. No geofencing or location tracking will be enabled on any deployed iPads.
- Use of unauthorized applications on these iPads with the intent to alter the software or firmware (i.e. “jailbreaking”) is prohibited.
- IS&T and MIT are not responsible for any loss of any information stored on the device due to hardware or software failure, or the user’s failure to remove information (work or personal) from the iPad prior to returning the device. IS&T recommends storing any files in cloud-based applications, such as Dropbox, instead of locally on the iPad. Apple also provides options for backing up iPads: https://support.apple.com/en-us/HT203977
- The iPad bundle includes a protective case. The case must be installed and remain in place on the iPad at all times.
- Students will be subject to all applicable MIT policies while using the loaned iPad, including, without limitation, the MITnet Rules of Use and the Mind and Hand Book.

How many pieces of equipment can I request?

A student can request one of each type of device. You can request both an iPad bundle and a laptop.

My country of residence isn’t on the loaner form. Can I still get loaner equipment?

Yes, IS&T will still provide you loaner equipment even if your country is not listed. Provide your full mailing address with street, city, country, and postal code. Also be sure to include a telephone number where you can be reached in case there are any additional questions.

When will I get my equipment? And what shipping address should I use?

Your equipment will be shipped to you before the start of the semester. You will be prompted to provide a valid shipping address and a phone number during the request process. Please use the address where you currently reside.
Submitting the request form will generate a ticket in ServiceNow (IS&T’s ticketing system) and provide you with a confirmation email, which will give you a way to continue to communicate with us on your request, should any circumstances change. This includes changes of shipping address.

You will receive an email confirmation (to your MIT email address) from the shipping company with tracking information once available.

What should I do with my packaging?
