Where can I learn more about Kerberos?

Q: Where can I learn more about Kerberos?

Answer

You can go to Security Software to find links for obtaining Kerberos Extras for Macintosh and Kerberos for Windows.

Additional information is available in the Kerberos KB category.

The following resources are targeted at an advanced user and operator community outside of MIT, and mostly do not mention information specific to MIT.

Documentation for the latest release of the MIT Kerberos open source software is at http://web.mit.edu/kerberos/krb5-latest/doc/ . Additional information about Kerberos, including links to other information sources, is at http://web.mit.edu/kerberos/.
