What type of events are advertised in the MIT Events Calendar?

What type of events are advertised in the MIT Events Calendar?

Events include (but are not limited to): lectures, meetings, training programs, arts events, sporting events, club events, social events, and deadlines.

Note: events listed as "deadlines" only appear on custom calendars (not on the main Events Calendar), even if other categories are also selected.