Video Recording and Delivery

Video Recording and Delivery

need to update links to articles once they exist

From planning your video to recording and delivery, this section will help you navigate video production at MIT.

Video processes and services
Plan	Prepare for production: Who is the video for? Who will record it? How will your audience see it?
http://mit.edu/teachtech/video-overview/video/record.html	Rent or buy a video kit, or hire someone to help with your recording.
http://mit.edu/teachtech/video-overview/video/edit.html	Add post-production effects, remove mistakes, and organize shots into sequence.
http://mit.edu/teachtech/video-overview/video/subtitle-transcript.html	Add subtitles for hearing-impaired viewers, and help all users discover your video through search engines such as Google.
http://mit.edu/teachtech/video-overview/video/upload.html	Upload your video to YouTube, or another site. Create a DVD to share your video.
http://mit.edu/teachtech/video-overview/video/archive.html	Save your footage for easy editing later.

For more information

Jump to ~~Select a topic~~ Accessibility Audio Visual Services Classroom Reservations Instructional Media New Media Center (DIY video editing) Privacy and Copyright Output Standards for Physical Media Video Training and Education Video Production Checklist Video Hardware Recommendation

---

Frequently Asked Questions

How can I reserve a room?
How can I play a video in my class?
How can I record my class?
[» More Frequently Asked Questions|http://mit.edu/teachtech/video-overview/video/faq.html]
----Can't find what you are looking for? Please email video-info@mit.edu.
|