Recommended Laptops Apple

MIT fully supports the use of Apple technology and is here to assist students, parents, faculty, and staff purchase technology that will help you succeed during your academic career and beyond.

MIT community members can get information about an order placed on the Apple Online Store through the Order Status page. You can also check your order status or make changes via phone: (800) 692--7753.

Shop Apple online 24/7 and get free delivery or pick up your order at a local Apple Store.

- Faculty and staff: MIT-owned purchases: Apple site; personal purchases
- Students: Go to the vendor's online education store to get the proper educational discounts applied to your purchase

For assistance, contact the Service Desk (617-253-1101).

Personal purchases

Visit the supplier websites or contact the supplier representative to make personal purchases using your personal credit card. MIT is not responsible for any personal purchases.

Before making a personal purchase, review the following guidelines:

- You may not use the Institute's tax-exempt number when making personal purchases---in fact, use of an institutional tax-exempt number to make personal purchases is prohibited under Massachusetts law
- You may not add personal items to a purchase order that includes official MIT purchases. For example, you cannot purchase 10 reams of paper for personal use included with an MIT order of 50 cases
- You may not charge personal items to the MIT ProCard

To purchase personal Apple computers at MIT discounted prices:

1. Shop with education pricing on the Apple site
2. Select your computer and configure as needed
   Note: You will need to customize their purchase at the Apple portal to match the IS&T recommended product specifications
3. Purchase
